

Become a Surveyor

Help shape the world
we live in and build
your future

Surveying is one of the oldest and most important professions of the civilized world. Since the Egyptians were building Pyramids, Surveyors have been determining where things go and where boundaries belong.

Being a surveyor isn't just a career. It's a profession that is critical to the ongoing development of Australia, and Australia needs you right now!

Surveyors are critical for:

- building roads and cities
- defining property
- finding mine resources
- measuring changes in the earth
- understanding our waterways
- finding ancient ruins or use Google Earth.

Our world needs Surveyors everyday to function.

Your love for technology, science, geography, maths and working outdoors can open up the world for you to explore with a career in surveying.

@surveyingcareers

"I didn't really know what (course) I wanted to get into at first, but I knew that I loved being indoors and outdoors without being chained to a desk, and now I really enjoy surveying and its variety".

- Katie, NSW

"There are not many professional jobs that get you out and about like surveying does. From big firms to small, there are not enough Surveyors to go around which makes for some pretty tidy job security"

- Steve, VIC, Surveyor

Choosing a career you love is one of the biggest decisions of your life and it should be fun and exciting.
